

The Middle East Online: Series 1: Arab-Israeli Relations, 1917-1970

From The National Archives, Kew

Images reproduced with kind permission from the National Archives of the UK.

With over 200,000 pages of primary source documents that chronicle the politics, wars, administration and diplomacy surrounding the Palestine Mandate and the Arab-Israeli conflict, this collection is an essential research tool for Middle East scholars. The fully searchable archive has been sourced from the British Foreign Office, Prime Minister's Office and the War Office among others. These critically important government documents from the British government files, now housed at the British National Archives, are available online in this fully searchable, image-based product.

Arab-Israeli Relations, 1917-1970 benefits from the input of a distinguished editorial team, headed by Dr. Eugene Rogan, director, the Middle East Centre at St. Anthony's College, Oxford. The board has selected documents that provide vital coverage of the milestone events in this region's history.

War in Palestine

Arab-Israeli Relations, 1917-1970 is an outstanding resource for scholars researching the War in Palestine. This 1947-49 conflict, the most significant event in 20th-century Arab politics, set the stage for the next several decades of Middle East tension. Selected documents trace the civil war that erupted between Jewish and Palestinian urban centres following the Partition, the termination of the British Mandate, the proclamation of the State of Israel, the course of the war in 1948, the armistice of 1949 and the regional consequences of the war.

FEATURES:

- General editor: Dr Eugene Rogan, Middle East Centre, St Anthony's College, Oxford
- 200,000 pages of text
- Thorough coverage of key events of the period though primary source documents
- Full-text word-searching functionality
- Unprecedented access to original British government files
- Correspondence, diplomatic, consular and cabinet papers
- Conference reports, treaties, declarations and arms deal reports
- Search tips mark lists
- Search history

SOURCES:

Documents originate from:

- British Foreign Office
- Prime Minister's Office
- Maps and Plans Department
- Cabinet Papers
- War Office
- Dominions Office
- Colonial Office
- Foreign Office and Commonwealth Office

TYPES OF MATERIAL:

- Maps
- Dispatches
- Memoranda
- Acts
- Sessional papers
- Protocols
- Reports
- Press cuttings

THOMSON Learning Digital Research Collections

ARAB - ISRAELI RELATIONS, 1917-1970

The Middle East Online: Series 1

Thomson's new series The Middle East Online delivers a major overview of the political history of the Middle East in the 20th Century, based on primary source documents from The National Archives, London.

Series One – Arab-Israeli Relations 1917-1970 – offers the widest range of original source material from the Foreign Office, Colonial Office, War Office and Cabinet Papers from the 1917 Balfour Declaration through to the Black September war of 1970-1. Here major policy statements are set out in their fullest context, the minor documents and marginalia revealing the workings of colonial administration and, following the creation of the State of Israel in 1948, British diplomacy towards Israel and the Arab states.

Additional value has been added to this Series 1 by the expansion from the original 562 TNA records to over 17,000, thus substantially improving access to over 137,000 pages documenting the politics, administration, wars and diplomacy of the Palestine Mandate, the independence of Israel and the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Topics covered include:

- the background to the establishment of the State of Israel as a Jewish national home
- Black September
- the border wars of the 1950's
- the British capture of Jerusalem
- the Cold War in the Middle East

General Editor: Dr Eugene Rogan

The Middle East Online: Series 1: Arab-Israeli Relations, 1917-1970

From The National Archives, Kew

CONTENTS INCLUDE:

- Typescript reports, minutes and correspondence by, to and from British government departments, embassies and consulates
- Government documents set out major policy statements in their full contemporary context, with minor documents and marginalia revealing the workings of colonial administration and following the creation of the State of Israel in 1948, British diplomacy towards Israel and the Arab states
- The Balfour Declaration in 1917 and files from the British Occupation of Jerusalem
- The workings of the British Mandate in Palestine, 1922-48, from the ratification of the Mandate by the League of Nations in 1922, all the Palestine Sessional Papers 1924-48 to the partition plans dating from 1937-38
- Documents on the latter years of the Mandate (1937-48): the Zionist Revisionists, the Stern Group, Irgun Zvai Leumi, the Arab Higher Committee and the Arab Union
- Records of the Anglo-American Committee of Enquiry and Report of 1946 and the U.N. resolution to partition Palestine in November 1947
- The Palestine War, 1947-49 - the most significant event in Arab politics in the 20th century - documents selected trace the civil war that erupted between Jewish and Palestinian urban centres following the Partition, the termination of the British Mandate, the proclamation of the State of Israel 1948 and the course of the war in 1948, the armistice of 1949 and the regional consequences of the war
- Key files from the Arab-Israeli conflict through the 1950s, including the "Border Wars", as thousands of displaced Arab families crossed back over the borders of the new state to recover property, tend farms and vent their fury against the occupiers of their land. Files also document the regional instability following the fall of Palestine marked by assassinations of neighboring Arab leaders
- The Cold War in the Middle East as the old colonial axis of power shifted towards the new superpowers - US and USSR - with the U.S. backing Israel and the USSR backing Syria and Egypt
- The June War of 1967 when Israel shattered the armies of Syria and Jordan, then swept into the Gaza Strip, Sinai, Jerusalem, the West Bank and the Golan Heights. The foundation of the PLO and Britain's reactions to

TOPICS COVERED:

Topics included in the collection are:

- The Balfour Declaration of 1917 and the politics behind it
- Origins of British rule in Palestine
- The Palestine campaign of 1914-1918
- Britain's military occupation of Jerusalem from 1917
- The League of Nations mandate for Palestine in 1922
- Palestine sessional papers of 1924-1948
- The background to the establishment of the State of Israel
- Britain's early relations with Israel
- The assassinations of 1951
- The Suez crisis
- The effect of the Cold War in the Middle East
- The Six-Day War of 1967
- The PLO resistance movement

SEARCH FUNCTIONALITY:

Basic Search

Advanced search by:

- Description
- Document number and type
- Language
- Titles and headings
- Browse indexes
- Search-term highlighting
- Fuzzy Search
- Limit by date

THEMATIC ESSAYS:

Essays by leading scholars:

- 'Introduction' - Dr. Eugene L. Rogan, Middle East Centre, St Anthony's College, University of Oxford
- 'Palestine and the Arab-Israeli Conflict: 1948-1970' - Dr. Charles D. Smith, University of Arizona
- 'The PLO and the Palestinian armed struggle' - Professor Yezid Sayigh, Department of War Studies, King's College London.

This digital collection is an essential research tool for academic researchers in Middle East Studies, Conflict Studies, International Politics, Intelligence, Politics, Government Studies and Colonial History.

FREE TRIAL — For more information or to request a free trial of this unique collection, please contact your Gale Sales Representative or visit www.gale.com/GDCTrial.